

What

KINDERGARTNERS

Need to Know

- Listen to stories without interruption
- Is curious and enthusiastic about trying new activities
- Able to use a pencil and paint brush
- Able to hold scissors correctly while cutting
- Trace basic shapes/letters
- Able to share with others
- Able to follow classroom rules
- Manage bathroom needs
- Separate from parents without being upset
- Is able to communicate about his/her needs
- Identify the beginning sounds of words
- Identify alphabet letters by name and sound
- Recognize groups of one, two, three, four, etc.
- Is able to match one-to-one correspondence
- Bounce a ball
- Ride a bicycle using the peddles
- Is able to recognize his/her full name
- Beginning to work independently

